THE REVIEW AND BISBEE'S PROSPERITY.

The attempt of the Bisbee Miner to add to the Review because this paper published an article taken from the Paradise Record concerning the county seat removal was the smallest piece of newspaper business ever attempted in Arizona. The statement in the afternoon paper that the extracts taken from the Record's article were editorial expressions of the Review was a deliberate attempt by a malicious falsehood to deceive its readers in this city and to attempt thereby to make political capital for the republican candidates in the city election.

The people of Bisbee will not be deceived by the afternoon paper for the reason that those who read the Review in this city know that the county seat article published on Wednesday morning in the Review was properly credited to the Paradise Record, and it was published solely for the purpose of informing the citizens of Bisbee of the sentiment of the Paradise Record and not of the Review.

Those citizens and public officials and business men of Bisbee, who have been all engaged in the work of pushing this city to the front, know whether the Review has been loyal to the city and district; the mining men know whether the Review has been energetic in making the great wealth and future possibilities of the Warren district known to the outside world; the business men know what the Review has done to attract trade to this city; the members of the board of trade and the chamber of commerce in this city know whether the Review has been a knocker or a booster; those who are interested in the churches or public schools in Bisbee know whether the Review has been loyal to the betterment of conditions here or not.

The attempt of the afternoon paper, which has never been able to attract any attention in this city, either as a knocker or a booster, to try to make it appear that the Review now or ever has been disloyal to the best interests of Bisbee or its people was simply to make itself ridiculous. It makes itself worse than ridiculous; it places itself in the position of using falsehood for the purpose of trying to win votes for the republican ticket on Monday next.

As to the county seat, the Review was the first paper in this county to suggest its removal to a place where it would be more convenient to the great majority of the citizens of the county. Bisbee is the center of population and with the county seat located here more money would be saved to the county in the matter of mileage paid to jurors and witnesses and in the transportation of prisoners than if it was located at any other point in the county. Whenever the people of Bisbee, or the Warren districts file a petition and secure an election to remove the county seat to this city, the Review will be found in the front of the campaign which will follow, preceding a vote on the proposition.

Not forgetting our beautiful suburban city of Warren. Those who are responsible for the creation of that modern city, have magnanimously stated to the citizens of Bisbee that they would in no way block the proposition to remove the county seat to Bisbee if a site could be obtained and agreed upon. The city of Warren has something more to offer to those who desire to make their homes in this district than the claim that it would be a fit location for the county seat. It has an up-to-date sewer system, electric lights for the homes and for power; it has a trolley system which connects it with every section of the entire district and with the new Country Club grounds; it already has the finest residence in the territory and many comfortable homes; dozens of new residences are under construction. This important neighbor city will eventually be a part of Bisbee; in fact, it now is, both in spirit and material conditions. Every available inch of building ground will be covered from upper Tombstone canyon to Warren, and below, in less than ten years; then the people will remember the part the Review has taken in the past, as the present and in the future for the upbuilding of Bisbee, while the Miner, unless it takes on a new life and a more progressive spirit will have been forgotten.

DEMOCRATS SHOULD NOT BE DECEIVED.

The attempt of the Republicans of Bisbee to raise all manner of impertinent and immaterial issues in the city campaign which will end on Monday next should not be allowed to detract the attention of the people and especially of the Democrats from the real issues. This city election is for the purpose of choosing city officials who will have charge of the city's public business during the coming two years; it is also to decide whether the city government of Bisbee shall remain in the hands and under the control of the Democrats, as it always has been, or whether the democrats shall be rebuked for no other reason than that they have given the city a progressive air and economical government in the past. The Democrats have nominated men for the various offices who are known to the people of Bisbee as efficient and reliable. This has not been denied and will not be by the Republicans. When the Republicans appeal to the Democrats to eliminate politics and vote for the best men the appeal only means that they believe that a Republican is naturally better than a Democrat; it is a Republican habit of standing on the street corner daily and, like the Pharisee, raising his hands to heaven to "thank God I am a better man than yonder poor Democrat." With such a man as George Neale, whose character has been assailed and besmirched by some of the squirming Republicans, but which stands unassailed and untarnished during a long residence in this city, and with such men as have been placed on the Democratic ticket with him, every Democratic in Bisbee should stand by his party now and rebuke the false issues which the Republicans have tried to inject into the campaign during the last two weeks.

If Arizona is to be placed and held in the Democratic column when it shall have been admitted as a state, which is now one of the certainties of the next two years there must be a holding of the Democratic strength together in the counties and cities of the territory. The only reason which should be considered by a Democrat for refusing to support a Democratic county or city candidate should be a charge that he is incompetent or dishonest; no such reason can be applied to a single candidate on the Democratic ticket. Several of the candidates have been connected with the city government in the past and have a record for faithful service in caring for the public needs of the city.

The success of the Democratic tickets in Bisbee and Douglas means a clean sweep victory for the party this fall under the banner of Bryan and Mark Smith. Such a result here will also mean that the Republican hope of carrying the new state of Arizona, after its star has been placed on the flag, will be at an end. Democrats, buckle on your armor and go to battle on Monday for the success of your party candidates and we will have no more humiliating taunting of Democrats by Republicans as was the case after the city election two years ago.

The miners are almost a unit for Jack Stevens for city marshal.

Keep an eye on the vote L. C. Shattuck and Frank Haines will poll in the First ward.

The republican city central committee slipped another cog last night. It spread big banners about the city and in red letters about a foot high, Mayor Caven's name is spelled "Cavin."

A ballot for the democratic ticket next Monday in Bisbee is a vote cast in the interest of democracy in Cochise county and Arizona. A split ticket will aid the republicans in their fight for county and territorial control.

The republican city central committee accuse the Kirk faction of refusing to come through with the proper support for all of the republican ticket, and a rival paper is the outcome. The Daily Tribune, however, isn't much of an improvement on the Miner.

George Neale has no interests that could influence him from being an advocate of Bisbee at all times. There is no compromise in Neale's position now, or in the future regarding Bisbee as long as it is in the race for anything it wants.

Though P. J. McCullough is practically assured of election on Monday, he is not letting any grass grow under his feet. McCullough is an aggressive and effective a campaigner as he is a street commissioner, and that is saying a whole lot.

L. R. Allen and W. M. Edwards, like the balance of the democratic ticket, are out rounding up the votes for Monday. Allen is at present a member of the council and was active in all measures for the best interests of the city during the term he is just closing. He is deserving of re-election, and so is his running mate, W. M. Edwards.

Former Chairman Kirk pulled the lever in the chute for Chairman Holmes last evening when he announced through his newspaper that Holmes' program for the republican rally tomorrow evening had been selected by the democratic central committee. Holmes to friends has been charging Kirk with lukewarmness to the republican ticket excepting Dr. Caven, to whom Holmes says Kirk has been peddling all of his political dope and advice to the detriment of the balance of the ticket. Kirk comes back at his successor in charge of the republican party in Bisbee by stating that the program arranged by Holmes had been selected by the democratic central committee.

The republican city central committee didn't think the Kirk faction through its newspaper was acting square with the ticket, and last evening began the publication of its own dope sheet. The first issue is devoted in a large measure to defending Chairman Holmes, who is editing the paper.

George Neale has been in the field personally this week and his stock has gone up wonderfully. With George S. Gage and Jack Stevens he has been making a personal canvass of the voters. As the election approaches confidence is growing stronger that every candidate on the democratic ticket will go through with flying colors.

Chairman Holmes is super-sensitive and peevish under the strain of the campaign. The burden of carrying on his shoulders the responsibilities of the republican party of Bisbee is telling on his usually cheery disposition. When members of his own party complain about his political blunders he shouldn't chastise the opposition press for noticing them. We are inclined to believe Chairman Holmes is getting valuable experience in politics in this campaign.

The republican leaders in Bisbee are split wide open again. Harmony was short lived. Chairman C. M. Holmes hands former Chairman R. A. Kirk, of the republican city central committee, a hot roast for ignoring him in the campaign and carrying on a little campaign of his own in the interest of Dr. C. L. Caven. The former chairman in announcing in his newspaper the republican rally tomorrow evening says it was selected by the democratic central committee. How's that dope as a harmony breeder?

Grady and Barkdoll have been hustling day and night this week. They promise to roll up a big vote in the Third on Monday.

UNWARRANTED ATTACK ON CAPTAIN WHEELER.

The Phoenix Review, edited by J. B. Bell, in its last issue makes an unwarranted attack on Captain Harry Wheeler of the Arizona rangers. It demands his removal from the head of the rangers because he has become too handy with his gun. The article intimates that Captain Wheeler has killed two men in this territory when the killing was unnecessary. That Wheeler is responsible for the death of two men during the past year is true, but it is well known that in both cases he acted in the defense of his life. The killing of the man in Benson was witnessed by dozens of the citizens of that town, occurring as it did in the very heart of the place. Captain Wheeler had been called upon by a man and lady for protection against a man who had followed them from Vall station with the declared purpose of killing one or both of them. When Captain Wheeler approached the man at the depot he was at that time watching for his intended victims and almost at the first word of Wheeler he jerked his gun and fired on the officer. Then followed a desperate duel between the two men, each emptying his six-shooter. When it was over both men lay wounded in the street—the bad man mortally and the officer shot through the leg.

The killing of the horse thief by Captain Wheeler and a deputy sheriff in the Warren district recently was another case of self-defense on the part of the officers. When the man was ordered to surrender he opened fire on the two officers and was shot as a result.

Those who know Captain Wheeler will regret that this unjust attack should be made on him. He has made a splendid officer; he has been active and under his direction the rangers have made a good record. He is not now and never has been regarded as a "gun man;" on the other hand, he is a very quiet and peaceably disposed gentleman. Those who know him well are aware that he would be the last man to seek trouble with anyone and the last man to resort to the use of his gun in the discharge of his duty.

The Phoenix paper goes farther and charges that Captain Wheeler has put on the ranger force a gang of notorious gun men. We are not acquainted with all the rangers, but anyone who knows Captain Wheeler would not believe there was truth in the charge. Sam Hayhurst is the ranger member stationed in Douglas and there is not a better officer to be found in the territory. It is not expected that Captain Wheeler would fill the ranger force with a lot of "sissy" men, without courage or ability to shoot should it become necessary.
